DEATH OF MAY ENGLISH
On Lord's Day, early in the morning of November 14th, death came into the home of Brother and Sister J. J. English and took from them their daughter, May. No one that I have ever known, loved the Church of Christ more than she. Her happiest thoughts were about things eternal.

I shall always remember the first few weeks later when the Church was being organized. Others might be discouraged and think it no use, but she was always happy in the thoughts of having a house of worship. How glad are we that for nearly three years she had the pleasure of attending nearly every service. Many are the times when she has tickled and made ready to be there, but that strong desire to worship God, caused her to come.

May was paralyzed when a small girl and for the last few years seemed to grow worse. She was taken seriously one week before death came. She made a brave fight to recover, but all in vain. Her devoted mother and father feel that the time is too great to be endured. The Church has lost one of her most devoted members.

No human thoughts can comfort a broken heart. God's word alone holds out the sweet assurance of life eternal to those who love and serve him. Truly, it can be said of her: She lived a good life, she kept the faith and finished her course faithfully, therefore a crown of life shall be hers at the last day. Our loss is truly her gain.

Funeral services were conducted in the church house where she always loved so much to go. The floral offering was most lovely. The filled house of sad faces spoke for their love and sympathy for the deceased and her family.

Though we weep, we weep not as those who have no hope, for we know she shall live again where no sorrow or pain will be known, and where God shall wipe all tears from every eye. She now rests from her labors and her works will follow her. The funeral conduct of the funeral services.

She leaves to mourn her loss of the immediate family: father, mother, one sister, Mrs. J. M. Loftin of Enterprise, Alabama, and three brothers, J. O. Lee and John Wiley. The last named has recently moved to Jupiter, Fla. All of these are faith-filled members of the Church of Christ.

Poultry Folk Show Fine Spirit of Co-Operation In Fairs of Next Month

The early settlers of this great country acknowledged their dependence upon God and established the precedent, now nationally observed, of a Day of Thanksgiving. If our American democracy is to remain the great hope of humanity, it must continue abundantly to proclaim the Word of God. President Coolidge recently said, "Our government rests upon religion."

It is most fitting at this Thanksgiving season to recall the words of the Psalmist: "What shall I render to the Lord for all his benefits unto me?" Indeed, we have been made to be a nation of takers, but we are trying to get regular Poultry Exhibit Coops which will save exhibitors time, trouble and expense of constructing attractive display coops.

Mr. O. L. Skipper, City Councilman in charge of streets has given us permission to occupy the street for the show between the 10th and 11th. The National Bank and Salomon's store, facing the boll weevil monument. This will give the exhibits a prominent location in the center of town where everybody coming to Enterprise will pass close by all poultry houses twelve by four feet, twelve feet between joints to be covered with four feet of soil, and the expenses of the County kept to a minimum.

Pig Club Boys Feeding Pigs For Pink of Condition.

We are delighted with the pep and enthusiasm with which the boys are competing in their part of the show. The public will see the best exhibition of club pigs at both Enterprise and Elba that has been in the State this year. State Fair's not excepted, and the State Judges of the show can truthfully say that Coffee County boys not only play the best football of any county in the state but also take off high hogs and produce high class hogs.

With the continued interest of the banks and business men in co-operation with the organized pig clubs of the county, Coffee will soon become the leading pork producing county in the state, and then our good friends, the banks and business interests of the county will see that love's labor in promoting these clubs and shows has not been lost.

The Elba people who staged the best county poultry show in the state last December, are going one better this year by increasing their poultry and hog exhibits and by adding a county School Fair.

Arrangements are being made for this show at Elba on December 10 and 11, immediately following the two days show at Enterprise is in the capable hands of J. M. Garrett who has one of the most modern and up to date poultry farms in South Alabama. Mr. Garrett will have his birds on exhibit for the two days fourteen of them were orders regarding the care of the paupers included.

HOW TO CAN MEAT AT HOME IS TOLD.

Auburn, Ala., Nov. 24.—Replies to a letter received from John A. Jones, of Elba, Alabama, Miss Pauline Jones, extension specialist in food preservation, says that meat may be canned at home but that "the only absolutely safe method is by processing under steam pressure."

Giving instructions as to how it should be done, Miss Jones wrote in her letter: "Meat is ready for preserving for canning as soon as the animal heat disappears. It should be handled in an clean manner as possible."

"It may be fried, boiled, roasted, baked and stewed just as to be done for immediate serving."

"Cut the pieces the size wanted, brown in a hot frying pan, pack into jars and cover with the gravy made from the pan grease. Season and thin with water. Do not use flour on the meat as it will form a paste and prevent penetration of heat."

"Place the jars in water about the same temperature as the jars themselves. Cook 20 minutes at 80 pounds steam pressure and quarts 80 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. When the cooking period is up remove the canner from the fire and complete the sealing immediately."

Meat canning has been practiced very successfully in a few Alabama counties. In each case the extension demonstration agent has assisted in starting and directing the work until it is understood.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION OF D. M. MARLER.

On November 19, 1925 quite a large number of children, grandchildren, brothers and other relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. D. M. Marler to celebrate his 62nd birthday of this good and distinguished pioneer citizen of Newbia School district, he having been a lifelong citizen of this community at the old age of 35 years. A man where he has reared his family to manhood and womanhood.

About 9 o'clock the crowd began to gather and continued to gather until the noon hour. The following named children were present to refresh the long ago remembrances of their dear old parents, and the old ones, too, which they had had so many times: Simon Marler and family of Opp, Ala., Mrs. Lillie Warren and family of Givewood, Ala., and Newbie Marler and family of Opp, Ala., Mrs. Viola Turnam and family of Brantley, Ala., Johnnie Marler and family of Elba, Ala., and three daughters Lula, Lucinda and O'Dell, wife of the first president. We are sorry to note that his two sons, Billie of Elba, Ala., and Sam of Opp, Ala., and the widow and family of his son Marion of Opp, Ala., were so unfortunate as not to be present on this occasion.

As the noon hour approached and was announced the scene will never be forgotten by those who had the grand and glorious privilege of participating in this notable celebration in honor of this good man. A most bountiful dinner was spread in the yard to the North of the residence of the home and as this good man made the announcement of welcome although not having the talent of oratory and fluency of speech it was the most the most touching scenes that ever were seen in such a scene. The tears flowed from his eyes and his affection so strong toward his children and his action of welcome so pronounced toward his friends that those touching scenes will never be forgotten by those present.

May God's richest blessings rest upon this home and may the life of this good man be spared, whereby that he will have the opportunity many more times to meet his loved ones and friends on an occasion like this but if God in his infinite wisdom sees fit to deprive those children of the glory of another meeting with their old homesick with father is another birthday anniversary that those tags will be rewarded.

PAIR FOUND DEAD UNDER AUTO WRECK.

Aniston, Ala., Nov. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Street, prominent Anistonians, were found dead beneath their car in a 15-foot ditch near the Sylacauga road, three and a half miles below Talladega, early morning, according to police reading here.

The car had run into a woman walking across the bridge and plunged into the ditch Thursday night. The lights on the auto were still burning and attracted the attention of a passing motorist, who took the bodies to Talladega.

Mr. and Mrs. Street were en route from Goodwater to Aniston. They had left Goodwater at about 8 o'clock Thursday night.
